github.com/roberttdesjardins

Robert Desjardins

1050 Smithe Street, V6E 4T4   778.323.9389
Vancouver, British Columbia   roberttdesjardins@gmail.com

Profile

A Sauder School of Business BCom graduate with analysis and communication skills established through student organizations and group projects. A self-motivated and adaptable employee possessing computer-literacy, problem solving, and inter-personal skills developed through academic pursuits and extensive community-involvement.

Education

Bachelor of Commerce, Sauder School of Business, UBC   2018
- Combined Major in Business and Computer Science
- Relevant courses: Managerial Economics (97%), Logistics and Operations Management (95%), Application of Statistics (86%), Advanced Algorithm Design and Analysis (79%), Software Construction (85%)

Applied Web Development, BCIT   Completion 2019

Relevant Experience

Application Development – Vancouver, BC   2018
- Designed and programmed multiple applications for IOS using Swift and the SpriteKit framework

Project Leader, University of British Columbia – Vancouver, BC   2017
- Managed group members and worked closely with the Ubyssey, a university newspaper publication, to create a new business model which would be able to thrive in a difficult industry

Project Leader, University of British Columbia – Vancouver, BC   2017
- Created a scheduling application and an interactive application of Conway's Game of Life using Prolog and Haskell in Functional and Logic Programming

Group Project Member, University of British Columbia – Vancouver, BC   2015
- Performed a business analysis of the private medical industry and recommended appropriate IT applications through collaboration with teammates in Managing Information Systems

Event Coordinator, West Vancouver Community Centre for Seniors – Vancouver, BC   2011 – 2012
- Developed rapport with over 30 members through individual communication during daily walks to learn about their personal needs and concerns
- Enhanced the experience of members who felt excluded by creating events and activities in which they could participate

Busboy, Denny's – Vancouver, BC   2010
- Streamlined operations by analyzing which activities were in higher demand and worked accordingly while reliably updating management on inventory status
- Received commendation from superiors for excelling in the fast-paced restaurant business

Skills and Interests

Skills: Computer programming experience in many languages including Java, C, C++, Haskell, and Swift, mobile development experience with IOS and Android, database experience with SQL server, web development experience with HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, adept at Microsoft Office, extensive knowledge of computer hardware and software, easily adapt to new working environments

Interests: Technological advancements, travel and cultural immersion, weight-lifting and nutrition, dogs, economics, camping and hiking, automobiles, strategic board games, sci-fi novels and films